AS THE SIXTEENTH

AMERICAN LEGION CONVENES, WE PAUSE
IN SILENT REVERENCE TO PAY HOMAGE
TO THOSE COMRADES WHO MADE THE
SUPREME SACRIFICE, AND TO WHOSE
EVERLASTING GLORY AND HONOR THIS BOOK IS DEDICATED.

EDWARD A. HAYES
National Commander

Dear Comrade:

We have closed another Legion year and are meeting in our Sixteenth Annual National Convention. I greet you and bid you welcome.

The past year has been a most difficult one. The way has not been easy, but the Legion has made outstanding progress and marked success in its programs during the year. Credit for this success must in honesty and truth be given the loyal and zealous individual members who are found working year in and year out, and who have established in thousands of communities a friendship and faith in our Legion. Gains in membership have been recorded. That reflects the confidence of the veterans of the World War in our sincerity of purpose, and in our earnest desire to uphold the ideals upon which our Government was founded and upon which our organization was built.

Legionaires, Comrades, Welcome—thrice welcome to Miami. I wish for you a most pleasant visit to this city of sunshine and know you will enjoy to the fullest the fine hospitality of a city that greets you with open arms. In accepting this hospitality I have every confidence that Legionnaire visitors will so conduct themselves that when they come again they will receive the same warm welcome that is extended today.

E. A. HAYES,
National Commander.

PARADE ORDER

LEGIONNAIRES

The "Big" Parade of the American Legion is today the most outstanding spectacle of its kind staged anywhere.

With the eyes of the world upon us, it is only fitting that the members of our organization should make every effort to present, as organizations and individuals, an appearance in keeping with the honor of the great organization to which we belong.

It is particularly requested that every Legionnaire take part in the parade, that he form with his organization in its assigned division.

The great parade presents an opportunity for the members of the American Legion to impress upon the people of this nation, by means of the thousands upon thousands of marchers taking part in the mighty procession, representing 49 continental departments, and the territorial possessions of the United States and posts in several foreign countries, the magnitude and strength of the Legion.

IMPORTANT

INSTRUCTIONS FOR INDIVIDUALS PARTICIPATING IN LEGION PARADE

2. It is proposed to march this parade by the reviewing stand within the minimum time so as to avoid the element of fatigue both to the marchers and the onlookers.

Legionnaires:

Miami gives her generous hand to you, your families and your distinguished guests, and her warm heart pridefully expands, now that you are here. She asks you to come as honored guests to the home of a friend and to take your places as well-loved members of the household.

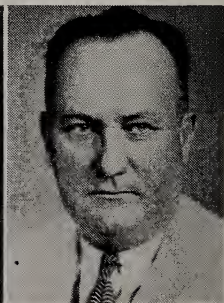

You, who were America's strength in war, are her support in perplexing times and are her insurance for the future, will, while with us, have your periods of serious deliberation. In your assemblies you will give long thought to problems of the Nation's welfare. Your utterances and conclusions will fall on the ears of an expectant Nation and will largely influence and determine the trend of future action by government. No other assembly enjoys such tremendous prestige.

But we are happy that there will be also hours of freedom when you will share in the recreative and pleasure-giving pursuits which Miami, the hostess to the Nation, offers to you with open hands.

A generous God has bestowed on this beneficent clime all that is needed to make life full and complete. Our fondest hope is that, leaving dull cares behind, you will live each hour in Miami to the utmost. Our sun, sea and air, and every man-made facility for enjoying them are yours.

There is a saying that "Once you get sand in your shoes, you must come back to Florida." We are relying upon the truth of this adage and expect to welcome you again, and yet again.

LEONARD K. THOMSON,
President, American Legion 1934 Convention Corp'n.
